New solar plant of 23 MW starts solar power production

The Edisun Power Group has connected another 23.4 MW plant in Portugal to the grid.

The connection of the plant "Betty" increases the total installed solar production capacity of Edisun Power to 107.1 MW. The additional annual electricity production is estimated at over 41'000 MWh. More than 46'000 solar modules were installed on an area comparable to 23 football fields. This corresponds to the average electricity consumption of over 9'000 four-person households in Switzerland, assuming a consumption of 4'500 KWh per household. The profitability of the new plant is comparable to the Mogadouro plant (49 MW). Even without feed-in tariffs, an EBITDA margin of over 80% is expected.
